

Notice of Sure New 4G Unlimited Mobile Broadband Service

Sure is announcing the introduction of its new 4G Unlimited Mobile Broadband service, which will provide any customers who cannot access Sure's Standard, Superfast or Ultrafast Broadband, with an alternative service over Sure's mobile network from 14th October 2019.

This new service will be charged at £42.59, which reflects the same price customers pay for a standard Sure landline and Standard VDSL service. If a customer is already paying for a Sure landline, a reduction of £12.59 will be applied to the customer's account.

Should the customer remove the exchange line from their account in the future, the reduction will be removed, and the customer will pay the full £42.59.

A 4G router will be required to utilise this service and is priced at £49 when a 24 month contract is taken out. If the customer chooses to take out a 12 month or one month rolling contract, the router is priced at £99.
